

Josefina Martínez Gramuglia

Ambassador of Argentina to Canada

Ambassador Martínez Gramuglia is a career diplomat with over 25 years of experience in the Argentine Diplomatic Corps. She is a lawyer specialized in international affairs who graduated from the foreign service academy with honors, and she was awarded the “Jose María Ruda” medal for excellence in international law. She represented Argentina at the UN Security Council, and was also the official in charge of Disarmament, Non Proliferation and International Security during her posting at the Mission of Argentina to the United Nations in New York. Later on, she was appointed Head of Political Affairs at the Embassy of Argentina to the United States. The Ambassador’s most recent experience includes her work as Head of the Digital Economy Task Force during Argentina’s G20 Presidency, in charge of the emerging technologies agenda of the major global forum for economic, financial and political cooperation. Before starting her duties in Ottawa, she was the General Coordinator of the Cabinet of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, International Trade and Worship.

Ambassador Martínez Gramuglia is passionate about women and girl’s empowerment, and is committed to supporting future female leaders and championing women’s causes. She volunteers for social work, and carries out pro-bono legal counselling to assist low-income people back home. She speaks English, Portuguese, Italian and Spanish (native). She is married, and the proud mother of two girls.
